Birthday congratulations are in order for Mrs. Lillie Drinkard Mrs. J. L. Ferguson and J. W. Cawthon.

Mention of the generally damp and rainy weather in Korea, caused one veteran who was stationed there in World War II, to say that in stead of the fabled "Land of The Rising Mist" it should be called "Land the Morning Missed."

A Georgia Baptist minister who always has a story for every occasion, recently told of the two persons who were out fishing on the lovely prayer meeting night. Suddenly, one of them became conscience-stricken and told his companion, "You know, here it is, both of us in the church, and we ought to be at prayer meeting tonight." To this other replied, "Well, I'm not going to worry about it. I could'nt care if I was at home, anyway, because my wife is sick."

Many of our military units have proud histories. Such outfits as the 29th Division, the First Marine, the Second or Indianhead Division, etc. are possessors of fabulous histories, often down to individual regiments. It is comforting to know, for example, that the U. S. 19th Infantry Regiment is fighting on our side instead of against us in Korea. Eighty-six years ago this Regiment, as part of the 3rd Division of the 14th Federal Corps, played havoc with the Confederates in the fall of Atlanta. The Regiment was a unit of Gen. George H. Thomas' Army of the Cumberland. July 19-20, 1864, the 19th Infantry Regiment was fighting along famous Peachtree St. in the Battle of Atlanta. It was under the command of Gen. John M. Palmer of the 1st Brigade, in the fight for Atlanta this outfit lost 5 officers and 68 enlisted men killed, and 3 officers and 268 enlisted men wounded and one officer and 13 enlisted men missing. It bore the brunt of Confederate attacks from Gen. John Bell Hood's valiant hand. And they contributed to the Yankee victory. — Now, the 19th Infantry Regiment is maintaining its traditions in Korea - a tradition of holding against heavy odds, as it did at Chickamauga in September, 1863. At Horseshoe Ridge at Chickamauga, the 19th stood when many other units broke and when it was over, there was a new hero: Gen. George H. Thomas, "the Rock of Chickamauga."

This outfit is the proud group of modern American heroes, who under 24th Division Commander William F. Dean have made new pages of history in Korea. Gen. Dean, listed as missing, will become one of our great heroes. The proud tradition is: "Do or die."

The secret of good oratory: Be brief, be brief, be seated." -South-ern Cross.

"I have never heard anything about the resolutions of the Apostles but I have heard a great deal about the ACTS of the Apostles." -Horace Mann.

Uncle Sam Says

July 4, 1950, will be a day long to remember. It's the day we celebrate Independence and it will also be the day when the Treasury Department turns over to your State an exact reproduction of the historic Liberty Bell, the bell which signaled political freedom for our new republic. And your Government offers you the way to its dividual independence — or freedom from financial worry—through the U. S. Savings Bonds program. The real way to celebrate future security is by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

New Law On Cutting Pine Timber Areas

Of interest to timberland owners and sawmill operators alike is the revision of the Pine Seed Tree Act which went into effect on July 1st, 1950. This law provides that on each acre of timberland which is cut for commercial purpose there will be left at least 4 cone bearing loblolly or shortleaf pine trees 14 inches or larger. These trees are left for the purpose of reseeding the area and although they remain on the property of the owner they may not be cut until at least 10 years after the cutting of the timber. The law further provides for a fine of $10.00 for each such seed tree which is not left.

On land where no trees 14 inches in size occur then twice as many seed trees of the next largest size must be left.

The law does not apply if there are present on each acre at the time of the cutting at least 500 loblolly or shortleaf pine seedlings 6 feet or more high or 300 seedlings 10 feet or more high.

Neither does the law apply if the land is to be cleared for agricultural or building purposes; however land intended for such use must be cleared of all trees, brush, snags, tree tops and debris within 6 months following the completion of the cutting operation.

Allotments But No Quotas On 1950 Wheat

No marketing quotas will be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture for 1951 wheat crop, but acreage allotments, to be issued at a later date, will be in force.

This announcement was received by the local office of the Production and Marketing Administration from R. B. Bridgforth, PMA State Chairman.

Bridgforth pointed out that the present law requires that marketing quotas be proclaimed when the total supply of wheat exceeds the normal supply by more than 20 per cent, or when the average monthly farm price of wheat for three successive months has not been more than 66 per cent of parity.

Neither of these conditions exists, Bridgforth said, largely because farmers generally cooperated by planting within acreage allotments in 1950, thus keeping supplies and demand in balance. He also noted that prices held well above the minimum of 66 per cent of parity, because farmers put a substancial part of their 1949 wheat under price support.

If wheat growers generally plant within their 1951 acreage allotments, as they did for the current 1950 crop, Bridgforth considered it possible to continue to avoid marketing quotas in the future.

The chairman explained that under a marketing quota program, growers are subject to strict penalties on any crop marketed in excess of the production from the allotted farm acreage. Under the acreage allotment plan, there are no marketing penalties and growers who exceed their allotted acreage are not eligible for price support.

County Went Over Top In Bond Sales

Appomattox was one of the Virginia counties reaching and exceeding its quota in the Independence Drive on sale of U. S. Savings Bonds. Final tabulation showed that sales in the State of Virginia totaled $11,173,434.76, or 11 per cent over the state quota of $10,500,000. The official dates of the drive were from May 15 through July 4, with the accounting period closing July 17.

Appomattox County's quota was (E Bonds) $12,500. Sales amounted to $12,662.45.

Appomattox was one of the few counties in this area to reach its quota. In the following list, the first figure is the county quota and the second actual sales:

Buckingham: 8,000—1,555.65.
Cumberland: 4,000—2,292.60
Amherst: 18,000—9,153.90.
Charlotte: 15,000—6,904.50.
Bedford: 50,000—43,329.90.
Amelia: 10,000—3,184.05.
Campbell: 22,000—14,727.75.
Halifax: 90,000—57,651.25.
Lynchburg: 200,000 - 152,523.00.

The state total was pushed upwards over the total quota by the excellent sales in such places as Norfolk, which went $574,000 over its quota of 1,700,000 to reach a total sales of $2,274,732.50. Fredericksburg, Hopewell, Martinsville, Phoebus, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Roanoke and Waynesboro were also well over their quotas.

Bland County was the first to go over the top, and exceeded its quota by 399 per cent.

Interment Service For Lt. Williams

Interment services for Second Lieutenant George Bruce Williams will be held Saturday, July 29, 4 P. M., in the cemetery of Timber Ridge Presbyterian Church, seven miles north of Lexington, Va., on Route 11.

Lieut. Williams was pilot of a B-17 bomber which was shot down near Bohlen, Germany, October 7, 1944. Only one member of the crew survived, and only within the past six months was positive identification made of several others who had been buried by the Germans. The grave of the pilot was found on the edge of a woods near the village of Wiehe, and German records and other data made the identification certain.

Lieut. Williams was born in Lynchburg, the youngest son of Rev. W. Twyman and Mrs. Annabel Lyle Williams, who died in 1938. He volunteered for service in the Army Air Corps in 1942, and the next year was enlisted while a junior in Hampden-Sydney College. After a year of training, he was commissioned Second Lieutenant at Moody Field, Valdosta, Georgia, having won in every stage of his training the rating "superior," the highest given. In September, 1944, he flew his B-17 to England and was assigned to the 8th Air Forces, 331st Squadron, 94th Bomber Group. On his third mission and less than a month after his arrival in England, he gave his life in the service of his country, one week before he would have been twenty-one years old.

He was a member of College Church, Hampden-Sydney, having joined before he was eleven years of age.

Surviving him are his father, pastor of the Appomattox Group of Presbyterian Churches; and five brothers: William Twyman Williams, III, John Lyle Williams, and J. Taylor Williams, all of Rockbridge County; and Mark Bird Williams, M. D., and Alexander Williams, both of Toana, Va.

The family requests that no flowers be sent.
